To me,

This is to remind me; I aspire to be a network weaver and develop my skills and confidence in this area. I made a promise to myself to:

.....

.....

.....

.....

Even if I forgot, this card is a gentle reminder of the promise I made to myself. To remind me of the opportunity to take steps; no matter how small, each day to help me achieve my goals.

Lots of love,

“A Network Weaver is someone who is aware of the networks around them and explicitly works to make them healthier (more inclusive, bridging divides).

Network Weavers do this by connecting people strategically where there's potential for mutual benefit, helping people identify their passions, and serving as a catalyst for self-organizing groups.”
